DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-89, drawn to compounds and compositions of formula I, classified in classes 546, 548, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is required.
- II. Claims 90-93, drawn to methods of treatment, classified in class 514, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single virus (claim 90 reads on any virus) and election of a single disclosed species to treat the elected virus is required.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product. Other antiviral medications include acyclovir, and HIV medications such as Abacavir and Zalcitabine.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Where an election of Group I is made, an election of a single compound is further required including an exact definition of each substitution on the base molecule (Formula I), wherein a single member at each substituent group or moiety is selected. Upon election of a single compound, the Office will review the claims and disclosure to determine the scope of the independent invention encompassing the elected compound (compounds which are so similar thereto as to be within the same inventive concept and reduction to practice). A further restriction may be required. The scope of an independent invention will encompass all compounds within the scope of the claim which fall into the same class and subclass as the elected compound, but may also include additional compounds, which fall in related subclasses. Examination will then proceed on the elected compound and the entire scope of the invention encompassing the elected compound as defined by common classification. A clear statement of the examined invention, defined by those class(es) and subclass(es) will be set forth in the first action on the merits. Note that the restriction requirement will not be made final until such time as applicant is informed of the full scope of compounds along with (if appropriate) the process of using or making said compound under examination. This will be set forth by reference to specific class(es) and subclass(es) examined. Should applicant traverse on the grounds that the compounds are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the compound to be of obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U. S. C. 103 (a) rejection of the other. Without such a species election, a tremendous burden is placed on the Office to search the claimed invention as it encompasses an extremely diverse array of compounds.

All compounds falling outside the class(es) and subclass(es) of the selected compound and any other subclass encompassed by the election above will be directed to nonelected subject matter and will be withdrawn from consideration under 35 U. S. C. 121 and 37 C. F. R. 1.142(b). Applicant may reserve the right to file divisional applications on the remaining subject matter. (The provision of 35 U. S. C. 121 applies with regard to double patenting covering divisional applications).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
